Download toolbar now! Downloading files is quick and easy. The Free Download Manager will let you download files even in the background, resume broken downloads, and handle cookies and autorun files. Free Download Managers: There are many other download managers available for free on the internet. Some are even ad supported, and some even try to trick you into registering. These managers are not only limited to downloading. They also let you download a file in parts, put all your downloads in the queue for later use, queue multiple files so you can download them in order, start the download from where you last left off, and more. The following are some of the best that I found for download manager. They are all free and work great. I also have a download manager that you can download (free) to your smartphone with a QR code, that will allow you to download any file in the world, anywhere, anytime. The free version of that is only 1MB, which is about the same size as the free version of this app, but it has a MUCH higher limit! It keeps a small log file of all the downloads it has done for you with a convenient URL to link you back to the file if you wish to download it again. The logs can be accessed from your browser at anytime in a quick and easy way, no log-in is needed. It handles cookies and autorun files out of the box, in addition to downloading. Update: Google Chrome has blocked the QUANTZ download manager, which is why the download link below is gone. The free download of this plugin is only available if you download Firefox. How To Download Google Chrome (For Free) UPDATE 1/22/2014: Google has updated their policy on third party cookies. The QUANTZ download manager is now made specifically for Google Chrome users. While you can get the download link below, it no longer works. If you'd like to try the QUANTZ download manager for Google Chrome, please download and install the latest version of Firefox and visit the download link (www.quantz.com/firefox/download/). You can also install the QUANTZ download manager on a non-Google Browser by downloading and installing the latest version of the QUANTZ download manager (which is Firefox and Chrome compatible). The download link below will download the QUANTZ download manager for Chrome, but it won't work (
