St Peter's Church, Langrish St Peter's Church, Langrish is a Grade II* listed parish church in the Church of England in Langrish, Nottinghamshire. History The church was founded in the 12th century, and is the oldest in Langrish village. It was built to commemorate the death of a clerk, a pious man who had acted as a curate in the nearby Church of All Saints. The church was enlarged in the mid 14th century, and the tower added c 1460. This tower was removed in 1874, leaving a largely 12th-century structure. It is said that an Archbishop of Canterbury was buried here in the 13th century, which is the reason why St John's Church, Langrish, on the opposite side of the road, is called "The Cathedral of Langrish". The skull of the Archbishop was dug up in the 15th century, by a stone m

Vector Button_02 Icons

Vector Button_02 Icons is a pack of 204 high quality, high resolution icons with transparent backgrounds. These icons will look great in any application and are suited for a wide variety of uses. Each icon contains an alpha-channel so you can place the icon over any background image. If the button/label is pressing the background colour, it will retain its transparency. No extra graphics need to be added to the final application, so these icons are perfect for use in your software application. The files in this button pack are in the vector image format which means you do not need any additional software to open them. All the buttons should be easy to replace as you don't have any transparency problems. Vector Button_02 Icons Preview: * Select a preview button from the button pack to see all the available button types. You can also view the download links for all the icon files listed in the button pack. The button pack includes all the different button shapes so there is something for everyone. Vector Button_02 Icons Download: You can download a complete zip package which includes a zip file with all the button shapes in the button pack. My goal is to have a number of different WYSIWYG fields in a single block. So I have a field which would get filled out from an upload field (the image) and then it would show the WYSIWYG editor to the user to edit the image. Is there a way to do this? Any library functions that you might recommend? So far I've played around with the 'media_6a5afdab4c
