I'm going to start off with your honest answer. You made the choice to be on your own. You chose to get a divorce and you chose not to pay your exes. You spent that money on girls and money and girls. If you love them, marry them. If you don't, don't settle for less. Marry a woman who truly loves you and is looking for a home. A lot of people that are divorced don't know how to love themselves. That is what makes you different. You know how to love yourself. You're smart and you're beautiful. You can fix that mess, but it's up to you. Thanks for the advice. I actually knew what I wanted, I had the job, the apartment, and even a car, which I bought myself. I wanted a family though, and I wanted my wife to be a part of that family, I just didn't know how I was going to get her to agree to that. Now that I know better how to treat women, I have a better chance of getting what I want. And I'd really love to make a real family one day. "Are you the type of girl that thinks a guy that knocks her up won't spend the money on the baby?" he asked. "Is it gonna be a boy or a girl?" I asked. "I don't know. How would I know, that I can't find out until later." "When are you going to get my picture on your Facebook, then?" I asked. "You know how to use Facebook?" he asked. "Yes, I'm on it everyday." "No, no, I meant are you on that for me, to see what pictures you're tagging of me?" "Well, you know I would tag you the best pictures, so..." "Are you at least on there with a cute picture of yourself so that people will see who the hottest girl in school is?" "Does anybody even look at my Facebook anymore?" He chuckled again. "You're awfully cute when you're jealous. And a damn liar."Unmarshal(b, msg); err!= nil { t.Fatalf("seed = %d, err = %v", seed, err) } msgOut := new(Metric) if err := github_com_

Q: Optional Time duration arguments in Ruby How can I make a ruby method call optional with a fixed duration option? Example def foo(time_to_sleep: nil) sleep(time_to_sleep) puts 'woke up' end foo() # prints 'woke up' A: def foo(&block) time = Time.now time.send(:wakeup, nil, &block) puts "woke up" end A: If you don't need the boolean true argument that has nothing to do with the sleep you could wrap the code in a function: def sleep(time, &block) time.send(:sleep, &block) end And then you could call it with or without the Boolean sleep(Time.now, loutput) puts "woke up" end sleep(Time.now) { puts "woke up" } In The Court of Appeals Sixth Appellate District of Texas at Texarkana _____ No. 06-06-00061-CR _____ JAMES VON STAGG, Appellant V. THE STATE OF TEXAS, Appellee On Appeal from the 8th Judicial District Court Hopkins County, Texas Trial Court No. 99-0163X Before Morriss, C.J., Ross and Carter, JJ. Memorandum Opinion by Justice Ross MEMORANDUM OPINION James Von Stagg has appealed from his convictions for possession of less than one gram of marijuana and assault. He was sentenced to thirty years' and five years' confinement, respectively. His attorney has filed a brief which discusses the record and reviews the proceedings in detail but concludes there are no meritorious points to be raised on appeal. The brief meets the requirements of Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), as it presents a professional evaluation of why there are no arguable grounds for advancing an appeal. See Stafford
