The technology unlocks a number of new features and innovations to FIFA soccer, including the ability to create more aerially dynamic matches by changing the style of play, interactive corner flags and the ability to control the ref to make quick decisions. Additional player animations also allow for more precise player control in tight spaces such as the penalty area and goalmouth. The goalkeeper has also received an upgrade in FIFA 22. EA Sports has enhanced the quick reflexes of the Goalkeeper through the introduction of “anti-dribble animations.” The added quality to the goalkeeper’s movements gives goalkeepers an advantage in ball control. Learn more about FIFA 22 and visit FIFA.com for exciting news, videos and the latest information on FIFA 22. We collected thousands of in-game animations and feedback directly from fans during the beta. The goalkeepers’ animations are the most in-depth and realistic goalkeepers that EA Sports has created. With innovations like Active Touch Control, our goalkeepers are moving like a real pro, following the ball and reading its flight pattern with control and confidence. We are so close to releasing the game that I decided to share with you some of the data that we have collected and are likely to implement into the game. All new facial animations that improve the emotions of the players. I’m sure you already noticed how much more engaging the game is by now and how much more realistic the player models are. We have a complete set of animations that show the movement of the player’s body, from their arms to their legs, which are extremely detailed. We also included the animation of every single player on the field, starting with the goalkeeper and culminating in the player that is being attacked. Our goalkeepers have an excellent set of animations that allow them to do more technical things and recover from the attack quickly. I’ve already talked about it before, but I will go through the details of them now. We went into full flow with the goalkeeper in order to improve their reflexes and quick movements. The positioning of the ball is the key and our goalkeepers are capable of reacting to this very precisely, through the use of Active Touch Control. We have also included lower and upper body movements of the player in motion. The movements happen naturally and are not controlled by the player. The goalkeeper has the ability to push or pull the defender to
