this: Like this: The reason I make "Singh" is for Dalits to be seen as having an individual character, but not Asiatic. I think it is false to say all Dalits are like that. I have met quite a few Dalits in my life. I have friends who are Dalits and it's interesting to see who they are. I think if Dalits are "seen" and "fluffed up" to an extreme, our civilization would be at risk. I think it's true, that social structures are based on caste and class divisions, but it's not all that relevant for the world outside the caste system. I think the caste system has to go.
The world cannot be structured in a caste system. But I don't want to minimize the problems Dalits are facing because of caste divisions. If the caste system goes, it is the duty of the government to take care of the Dalits. If the government makes it possible for Dalits to live without the caste system, they should live decently.

So Dalits should be seen with respect and dignity. We have to rise above the caste system, but that does not mean we have to "sell out" and join the caste system. But every "caste" should have the right to live wherever they want in the world and pursue whatever activity they desire. I want equality without segregation, but that does not mean I want to see the Dalits live as slaves. I think the point of caste is to make caste a part of a person, and all castes should be treated equally.

The caste system is very problematic. There is also the problem of
